

BEFORE YOU SPEND A PENNY ON A BUILD

Find where your business is leaking time. In five working days.

A fixed-price, jargon-free look at how your business actually runs today, and a clear plan of what to fix first. No AI knowledge required on your part. That is the whole point of hiring me.

What it is

One working week where I map your brand, your website and the repetitive busywork nobody has time for, then work out where a small amount of AI and better systems would save you the most hours and win the most sales.

How it works

- A short kick-off call and access to what I need to see
- I do the research and the analysis, using AI to move fast
- You get the report and the plan five working days later

What you walk away with

- A plain-English report of what is costing you time now
- A ranked plan: what to fix first, and what to leave alone
- A fixed quote for each fix, with the hours or money it saves
- A 20-minute walkthrough call, yours to keep

Who it is for Small, owner-run businesses that are trading, feel stuck doing everything by hand, and are curious about AI but do not want to become technical. Not for pre-launch ideas, or anyone wanting daily social media posting.

£495

fixed, ex VAT

One flat fee for the whole week. Nothing is billed by the hour. And if you go ahead with a build within 30 days, the £495 comes off the price in full, so the audit effectively costs you nothing.
